WOMAN TO NOMINATE WILSON FOR THIRD TERM

TWO THIRDS RULE MAY GIVE BRYAN CHANCE DEADLOCK FRISCO MEETING

Indications Are That None of Factions Will Have Necessary Votes.

CHAOS IS SIGHTED

Senator Owen and Nebraskan
Are Expected to Form Coalition.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Possibilities of a stampede for a third term for President Wilson in the democratic national convention were seen here today by party leaders, following the announcement of Miss Mary Foy, of Los Angeles, that she would cast her vote as a delegate for Woodrow Wilson.

Miss Foy is recognized as one of the most able women leaders in the party and is positive in her determination to present the name of the president to the convention. She intends to suggest to the convention that a strong vice presidential candidate be put forth and that if President Wilson is elected he may retire when his duties are completed, and turn the office over to the vice president.

"I want a strong man for vice president—a man such as Homer Cummings," she said.

(International News Service.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—A chicken with its head cut off, flopping ground in the back, knows exactly what it is doing compared with the hosts of democracy gathering here to select a candidate for the presidency and build a platform.

With a two-thirds vote necessary for a nomination, instead of only a majority as with the republicans, the chaos of Chicago pre-convention days has descended upon San Francisco, leaving the arriving delegates confused and confounded.

Wm Jennings Bryan, it is claimed by some, with his dry backing, can prevent the nomination of anybody who doesn't suit him. It will take but 365 votes, a third plus one of the 1,092 delegates, to do this. The friends of Gov. Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey, on the other hand, control at least 365 votes, it is asserted, and can prevent the nomination of any candidate unfavorable to them.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma, it is believed, will form a coalition with William Jennings Bryan and precipitate a rough and tumble opposition, the moment the cohorts of the administration insist upon an out and out ratification of the league of nations plank.

There are pretty nearly a score of candidates in the open or potential already under consideration. Alphabetically they are Bryan, Cox, Clerk, Cummings, Davis, Edwards, Glass, Girard, Hitchcock, McAdoo, Marshall, Meredith, Owen, Palmer, Payne, Simmons and Wilson.

WILL ENDORSE SUFFRAGE
(By MRS. ANTOINETTE FUNK, Noted Suffrage Leader.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The democratic national convention will without doubt adopt a platform endorsing the federal amendment for woman's suffrage, in line with the policy of the party as announced by President Wilson. At the same time the league of nations is not second in importance in the minds of women.

WILSON URGES HASTE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 23.—"None of the fifteen railroad organizations have thus far even discussed a strike," declared Wm. G. Lee, head of the brotherhood of railway trainmen today. "However, we meet in Chicago on Friday and I am unable to say what will be the outcome of the meeting."

BRIDGE IS WANTED AT GUNTERSVILLE

CONGRESSMAN RAINEY IS ASK-ED TO BACK PROJECT BY SURGEON

GADSDEN, Ala., June 23.—Congressman Rainey is in receipt of a letter from Dr. John A. Wyeth, the celebrated New York surgeon urging him to do all in his power to help build a bridge across the Tennessee river at Guntersville as it will do more to benefit the people of his native country, the doctor says, than any other project on foot.

Dr. Wyeth says that on his recent return to New York from Guntersville he attempted to see Congressman Rainey in Washington but failed. He recalls the fact that at one time he owned every dollar of stock in the old Tennessee & Coosa railroad between Gadsden and Guntersville and gave it to the N. C. & St. L. to induce it to enter the district. The latter road had plans then to bridge the Tennessee but the panic came along and interfered. Dr. Wyeth believes that the railroad could be induced to share the cost of a bridge if the government and the people would help.

Captain Rainey states that he is working on a plan for the government to pay for a part of the construction and he believes that he will succeed in carrying out a scheme of government participation that will insure the people of Marshall county a magnificent bridge, possibly with the help and cooperation of the N. C. & St. L. railroad.

CIVIL WAR LOOMS IN ULSTER; STREET FIGHTING GOES ON

(International News Service)

BELFAST, June 23.—One person was killed and several others wounded in another outbreak of street fighting between unionists and Sinn Feiners at Londonderry during the night. Fighting was particularly violent and covered a wide area of the city. Several buildings in the business district were burned. One woman was killed late Tuesday by snipers.

A "reign of terror" is apparently spreading, and armed Irish volunteers entered the fight at Londonderry early today. The unionists in this city are debating the advisability of marching to Londonderry to reinforce the unionists there. The situation is tense with excitement.

It is admitted that the whole Ulster province is on the brink of civil war. The temper of the unionists is shown by the following editorial printed today in the Northern Whig: "The government seems to be afflicted with creeping paralysis. If it continues as weak as it is at present, Ulstermen will show that they are strong enough for the task at hand."

Word received from Londonderry at 9:30 o'clock this morning said that fighting was in progress at that hour.

BLAIR GIVES IMPRESSIONS OF LABOR LEADERS WHO "MET HIM" AT MONTREAL

(By J. E. Blair)

Mr. Editor: You know I agreed to give you my impressions of the big A. F. of L. convention in Montreal and the big men who "met me."

"As the convention is nearing its close and after near two weeks more or less close association with its leaders, these are my conclusions: Samuel Compers patted me on the back the first day, so of course he is right; Frank Morrison, the secretary, has been 23 years on the job, "a typo"; has had his wages raised today, so he is alright.

Anybody that has heard me talk, knows I have not been overly enthusiastic for the Boston police, but, paradoxical as it may seem, Seymour Butler, descendant of Benj. Butler, and a Boston police striker, turned out to become one of my "pals." And what he told me, came very near getting me into a big speech before the convention—but about that later.

Well, Mr. Butler did not seem to be the least bit "red."

He and his companion, a man who looks just like a college professor, said that for five years they held the same views I had expressed, on the highest court of authority for police, but said it finally occurred to them that concerted action was necessary. He explained that the historical strike was all settled up between the Boston city authorities and the police who struck, but that as a special state law of Massachusetts gave the governor absolute control over Boston, Gov. Coolidge undid the agreement of the local or decentralized authorities.

Had as well tell now, how Mr. Butler's talk came near getting me into the big mixup over the government ownership resolution which finally carried, with my vote in the majority. Mr. Butler's evidence went to show the great danger of governmental authority as an arbitrary power in wage disputes and when the discussion pro and con was at its height, being a "Quaker," as you know, I had a con-

Amen to all you erring brothers. Fans of Albany-Decatur who were not among the bleachers at between the times of 4 and 6 at the call of the clock, Tuesday, missed the best diamond fight since the beginning of the modern age. The Cullman hard hitting crew arrived after practicing all night at throwing rocks over the Cullman county hills and were in fine feather to go homeward with the decision on the right side of the records. However, owing to the mace work of the Messrs. T. and W. Thompson they traveled to the southward somewhat minus the blessings of a victory.

The contest settled into a hurling duel until the seventh episode and from then on both outfits waived the willow right lustily.

"Jimmie" Johnston held the visitors in the diamond until the afore-said round when instead of the very much expected downpour of compressed atmosphere a rain of clouts for the initial sack opened up.

The local gang started the argument in the sixth when after Green, the Cullman heaving power, had sent two men back to the bench with the misunderstanding of six deep ones, he croaked W. Thompson with the sphere and thereby issued a pass to pillow No. 1. "Chee" Halbrooks followed the opening with a stinging single and Thompson loped to the second peg. Watkins then delivered in the direction of the outer gardens and Thompson ambled to the plate. Halbrooks was caught on the way to spike the count at the plate when the whole Cullman lineup, including the mascot and manager, blocked continuously on the pathway.

This small lead harbored Johnston no good and the visitors crawled forth attired very much in wood. Williams singled. Patrick pushed a roller at Johnston and was thrown out, sacrificing Williams to second. Link took up a hostile position with a

ALABAMA WATER CO. WILL ASK COUNCIL FOR RATE ADVANCE; TO INSTALL METERS

President Weakley to Appear
Before Albany City Council
Tonight.

IS FIRST INCREASE
SINCE FRANCHISE GIVEN

Contract for Sewer Construction is Let to Leftwich & Company.

For 4 rooms, 2 faucets, ...$4.50
For 4 rooms, 4 faucets, ... 6.50
For 8 rooms, 5 faucets, ... 7.50
The foregoing is the new rate which the Alabama Water Company will present tonight at a special meeting of the Albany City council. The claims of the company for an increase will be presented by John B. Weakley, of Birmingham, its president. A similar request will be later presented to the Decatur city council.

This is the first raise in rates asked since the company was granted the local franchise in 1898 and is necessitated by the increased cost of operations and the need for improved equipment, it is stated. It is understood that a million gallon sedimentation tank is included in the improvements proposed, so that filtered water may be run into the mains at all seasons of the year. At present, during excessively hot weather, when the faucets are allowed to run, raw water is pumped and it is often discolored. The advance asked for is from 33 cents per gallon to 45 cents per gallon, or slightly more than 35 per cent. The wholesale rate to factories and large consumers will be 10 cents per gallon. The company will also ask that the minimum rate of $2.50 be doubled.

Meters Installed
In addition to increasing the rate, the water company is planning to install water meters. This will not only prevent waste, but will also place all consumers on an equitable basis, it is pointed out. Six hundred new meters have arrived here, ready for installation.

A special meeting of the council was held last night, at which the contract for laying the sewers on First Avenue through to Second street was awarded to Leftwich & Co., whose bid was $9,000.

A. B. HARVEY IS NOT A CANDIDATE

POLITICS

The most important development today in the local political situation which is somewhat mixed because of the action of the Central Labor council in postponing the mass meeting that had been called to ratify a labor ticket recently placed in the field, was the announcement of A. B. Harvey that he was not a candidate.

"While I am deeply appreciative of the honor, I am not a candidate for anything, and would appreciate the Daily's saying so," said Mr. Harvey. "I am not in politics and will not be."

Mr. Harvey was considered one of the strong men of the ticket as nominated, being a leading citizen of West Albany, a former member of the council and popular and prominent in Masonic circles.

COL. HOUSE ENTERS THE NEWSPAPER GAME

The debut of Col. House, formerly confidential adviser to President Wilson, and famed as the man of silence, into the newspaper game as a reporter has caused a round of comment from the press. Divergent views are expressed as to the value of untrained writers, such newspapers as the Birmingham Age-Herald admitting that they fill the role of specialists acceptably, while the Memphis Commercial Appeal pictures them as clumsy seals performing in a tank. The Commercial Appeal cites as examples Tyrus Raymond Cobb, William Jennings Bryan and others, all of whom owe their assignments to the lure of their name, rather than to their skill in chronicling current history.

The argument, however, has little to do with the fact that Col. House has been sent abroad to represent the Philadelphia Public Ledger. It is hardly possible that the emoluments are sufficient to interest the Texas sphinx, and it is hardly likely that his genius for expression is so pronounced that it will not be denied. It is rather to be expected that the Colonel has some pet scheme to exploit or some delicate propaganda to hatch. And in doing this, he intends to use the press as a handy medium.

JEWISH RELIEF

Without the aid of our Jewish friends and fellow citizens no drive ever launched in Nashville would have gone over the top. We should bear this in mind when given an opportunity to contribute to the Jewish Relief campaign.

The foregoing, from the editorial columns of the Nashville Tennessean, is just as applicable in New York, in Birmingham or in Albany and Decatur as it is in Nashville. It is true that the Jewish merchants of every city have an open ear for the calls of duty, and are called upon often. Almost invariably they respond.

This generosity of the Jews should not be forgotten by the Gentiles of America during the present drive for funds for the relief of the oppressed and stricken Jewish peoples in the East. Reciprocity is an obligation and should be a pleasure.

Dice Rollers of East Albany Are Allowed to Donate

The East Albany dice experts have sworn off. And the reason is that six of their number, arraigned last night before Mayor Dillehay in police court, were assessed fines aggregating $39.00, while the proprietor of the establishment where the game was being "banked" was levied on to the tune of $21.60.

Albany police officials have been living up to the city's slogan of "alert, active, aggressive" during the past few days, with the result that the municipal coffers have been considerably bulged.

no less than 15 names will be placed before the convention here next week. Aside from Wilson himself, four names stand out prominently today, as the vanguard of the delegates began to arrive. These are McAdoo, A. Mitchell Palmer, Vice President Marshall and Governor Cox, of Ohio. The continued silence from the white house on the question of a third term or on any particular candidate is creating a situation akin to that existing at Chicago right up until Saturday noon before the nomination of Harding. There is a distinct feeling among arrivals that the President will soon break his silence; that he will either nominate or eliminate himself or else will throw his weight behind some one of the fifteen men in the race.

Bank Vice-President

Tells How Ziron Iron Tonic Helped His Daughter After Operation for Appendicitis.

AFTER any serious illness, the first thing you notice when you begin to get around is your lack of strength and energy—a tired, weak feeling.

The sooner you get your strength back the better. The thing to do is to eat plenty of good, nourishing food, get all the fresh air you can, exercise conservatively, and take Ziron Iron Tonic three times a day.

Your doctor will tell you this is sound advice, and urge you to follow it.

Read this letter from Mr. J. B. Kelly, vice-president of the First National Bank, Graceville, Fla.: "My daughter had been in bad health since last April. She was operated on for appendicitis. She has been taking Ziron for two weeks. Her appetite is better than it has been. Her nerves are better, and she says she feels better. I know that Ziron is good for weak and feeble people."

Ziron is a scientific, reconstructive tonic, prepared from valuable strength-building ingredients, for weak people with thin blood. Druggists sell Ziron on a money-back guarantee. Try it.

AT LAST, RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM

Now Is An Excellent Time to Get Rid of Its Tortures.

Rheumatism is more than a mere local disorder confined to the locality of the painful parts. It cannot be rubbed away, because it is a deep-seated disease that has its source in the blood supply. The millions of little disease germs that cause the disease must be reached and eliminated from the blood before real relief can be had.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. It is the most thorough and reliable blood remedy because it searches out and eliminates the disease germs which infect the blood.

MRS. BOWLES

BRIDGE HOSTESS

Another pretty party inspired by out of town guests, was the one given on yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. T. A. Bowles entertained in compliment to Mesdames Wilbur Kelley and W. R. Smith, of Birmingham, and Miss Elizabeth Neil, of Nashville. The entertainment took the form of cards and bridge was played at four tables in the living and dining rooms. The living room carried a pleasing decoration of nasturtiums and dahlias, while in the dining room blue and pink hydrangeas, gift flowers were most artistically arranged.

In the bridge game Mrs. C. B. Elliot was presented the trophy for score, and Mrs. Herbert Odom cut the consolation. Mrs. Bowles gave each of her honor guests a dainty souvenir as memento of the afternoon. At the conclusion of the game and after the presentation of the prizes, the hostess served an elaborate salad course.

Mrs. Edwin McGregor and baby are visiting relatives in Rossville, Tenn.

Miss Claudie Pullias returned yesterday from a visit to Miss Loraine Wade in Hartselle.

Mrs. Gordon Boggs and Mrs. Garri were hostesses to the Women's Missionary Society of the Central M. E. Church Monday afternoon, June 14.

Mrs. L. P. Troup conducted the devotional. Mrs. W. E. Steed, Mrs. Lovin, Mrs. Brentz Preuit, Mrs. Winton and Rev. McGlawn assisting. Letters were read giving information concerning the life work of Orlando Shay and Miss Florence Foreman, two missionaries.

A short business session followed. Final arrangements for "The Wayfarer."

A beautiful prayer by the pastor closed the program.

A social hour followed and light refreshments were served. Inez Thomas and Athens Boggs assisting in the serving.

FOR MISS THOMPSON

Miss Claudia Pullias was hostess to a slumber party last evening in honor of Miss Virginia Thompson of Durant, Miss., who is visiting in the city. At midnight a tempting feast was served by the hostess to the following bunch: Misses Capitola Hamilton, Mable Dews, Tony Hamlin, Eula Nelson and Virginia Thompson.

A dainty ice course was served at the close of the afternoon by Mrs. E. E. Milan, assisted by Mrs. Diltz and Mrs. John Hamlin.—Elreno Democrat (Okla.)

Spider's Silk.

Experiments are in progress in Madagascar as a result of which it is hoped that a fine silk may be produced from spiders' webs. According to recent reports, excellent progress has been made by those in charge of the tests. The thread produced by spiders is declared to be finer in quality, stronger, and more beautifully colored than that obtained from silk worms.

The Modern Mrs. Malaprop.

A Washington newspaper correspondent tells of a Mrs. Malaprop who once amused the capital with her mistakes. She went around asking people to sign a "red robin" (meaning a round robin); spoke of her trip through the "Valley of Gethsemane" when she meant the Yosemite; and said, "I've been in the mountains, and do you know, I jumped from rock to rock just like a shanrock!"—From the Outlook.

STAND IN WAY OF BUSINESS

Historic London Churches May Have to Give Way to the Demands of Modern Progress.

Nineteen historic city churches in the heart of London, 13 of them the work of Sir Christopher Wren, have been marked for destruction by a commission appointed by the bishop of London to consider the whole question of the city churches. In seven cases it is proposed to preserve, for their architectural and historic value, the towers of the churches. In the other cases these old monuments, dating back to the seventeenth century and the great fire of London, would disappear.

This is the recommendation of the bishop's commission, but already strong protests have arisen and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings has announced that it will take every possible step in making the strongest protest.

The value of the sites of these churches is placed at nearly $8,500,000, situated as they are in the great business center of London, between St. Paul's and the Tower and a little to the north of that line. In addition to this enormous return from the church property the commission expects to realize an income of $120,000 a year from the beneficiaries after setting aside $81,000 a year for the salaries of certain of the clergy concerned. For the site of a single church, that of All Hallows, Lombard street, Barclay's bank has offered $2,500,000, and the value of the site of St. Dunstan's-in-the-East, has been estimated at $1,250,000.

NO HELP FROM THE DOCTOR

Abundant Reason for the Depression That Was Manifested in the Golf Bug's Attitude.

The golf bug has a sad face. He is plainly out of sorts. Something is the matter with him. He has just come from the doctor's office where he has undergone a thorough physical examination. He is sore and depressed, but not from what the doctor found, but from what he refused to find.

"You are all right," said the learned physician. "You are as sound as a nut."

That was a little joke the golf bug did not enjoy.

"Are you sure that I am in first-class condition?" he asked.

"Absolutely."

"Is my blood pressure normal?"

"Perfect."

"Heart regular?"

"Heart O. K."

"Lungs clear?"

"As a bell."

"Liver in good working order?"

"Splendid."

"No trace of neuritis?"

"Not a bit."

"Am I not bordering on a nervous breakdown?"

"See no indication of it."

"I'm sorry."

"Sorry, man; what for?"

"I thought surely you'd dig up some good excuse for me to go away. Now I'll have to be honest and say I'm going South simply because I want to play golf."—Detroit Free Press.

Ancient Cornerstone Laying.

The custom of laying the cornerstone of a public building with ceremonies was practiced by the ancients.

At the laying of the cornerstone when the capitol of Rome was rebuilt a procession of vestal virgins, robed in white, surrounded the stone and consecrated it with libations of living water.

A prayer to the gods followed, and then the magistrates, priests, senators and knights laid hold of the ropes and moved the mighty stone to its proper position. In a hollow cut in the stone were placed ingots of gold, silver and other metals which had not been melted in any furnace.

With the Jews the cornerstone was considered an emblem of power, and they also performed ceremonies at its laying. In medieval times the rite was taken up by the order of Freemasons and has by them been brought down to modern days, the Masonic ceremony of laying a cornerstone being symbolical.

Out of Place.

Aunt Hannah came home from church the other Sunday morning distinctly out of sorts. When asked what was wrong she answered that she thought there was not the proper reverence in that church. Pressed to give further explanation she finally did so.

"I didn't like any of the choir," she complained. "They were too fickle looking to sing hymns and I thought it perfectly sacrilegious when that soprano got up in those slippers with the high, thin heels and sang, 'How Firm a Foundation, Ye Saints of the Lord.'"

The family she was visiting smiled but later admitted to themselves that it was indeed incongruous although not exactly sacrilegious.

Work Poor.

Charles M. Schwab at one of his Loretto dinner parties was talking about a man who was vainly beseeching the banks for a loan.

"He's a rich man, too," said Mr. Schwab; "but he's work poor."

"Work poor?" said a guest.

"Yes, work poor," Mr. Schwab repeated. "You see, he's always got so many operations in hand that he's always short of money to finance them. Work poor, I call it."

Then he smiled and added:

"He's one of those fellows who dig so much that they're always in a hole."

To Restore Faded Ink.

When the ink of old documents has faded and it is desired to restore it, this can be done by washing with any of the substances that blacken on mixing with iron—infusion of nutgalls, sodium sulphide, or acetate ferro-cyanide of potassium, for instance.

Peanut Oil Gaining Favor.

The production of peanut oil, including both the cold-pressed and the hot-pressed, in the United States has increased from 454,000 pounds in 1912 to 95,934,000 pounds in 1918, an increase of more than 21,000 per cent. The importation of peanut oil increased from 7,026,000 pounds in 1912 to 68,466,000 pounds in 1918. Practically all the imported peanut oil is hot-pressed. Complete statistics for 1919 are not yet available.

It is apparent, say specialists, that cold-pressed peanut oil is winning for itself a place on the American table, justified by its flavor, nutritive value and digestibility.

Nothing There.

Before the consolidation I held an agency for one of the old express companies. One day several patrons were in the office when the superintendent and two other officials of the company came in unexpectedly. A woman had just asked for a package, and evidently the unexpected visit of the officials flustered me, for, after looking over the on-hand register and not finding anything listed for her, I returned to the counter, took down the receiver from the telephone, and said: "Hello, there is nothing here for you." My customer was standing right near the telephone, and every one laughed.—Chicago Tribune.

Reckless Reggie.

Nephew: That was a pretty good dinner we had; shall we have a drink now?

Uncle: Man, ye ken A'm teetotal.

Nephew: A cigar, then.

Uncle: A dinnar smoke.

Nephew: Oh, do something reckless—remember my firm is paying all the expenses!

Uncle: Weel, A think A'll ha'e my boots cleaned here then!—The By Stander.

Sure Relief

"The Wayfarer"

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as in liquid form.

SELMA, ALA.—"When one of my daughters was developing into womanhood, she suffered terribly at times. I was becoming quite worried about her when Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription was recommended to me. Two bottles of the 'Prescription' brought her through in very good condition and gave wonderful relief. I never hesitate to recommend this medicine to all girls who suffer, for it is splendid."—MRS. What Is Nuxated Iron?

Physician Explains—Says Public Ought To Know What They Are Taking—Practical Advice on What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance and Increase the Red Blood Corpuscles.

The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually, and that so many physicians are prescribing it as a tonic, strength and blood builder in weak, nervous, run-down conditions, has led to an investigation of its merits by designated physicians and others whose reports should be of great importance to the public generally. Among these is the statement made by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, who says: "When one patient after another began asking my opinion of Nuxated Iron, I resolved to go thoroughly into the subject and find out for myself whether or not it possessed the real value claimed by its manufacturers and attested to by so many prominent people. This is exactly what I believe every honest, conscientious physician should do before prescribing or lending his endorsement to any product whatsoever. If an article is worthless we practitioners ought to be the first to know of it and if it is efficacious we are in duty bound to recommend it for the welfare of our patients. A study of the composition of the Nuxated Iron formula so impressed me with the therapeutic efficacy of the product that I immediately tested it in a number of obstinate cases. So quickly did it increase the strength, energy and endurance of the patients to whom it was administered that I became firmly convinced of its remarkable value as a tonic and blood builder. I have since taken it myself with excellent results. There are thousands of delicate, nervous, run-down folks who need just such a preparation as this but do not know what to take. Therefore I have suggested the widespread publication of the sworn statement of the composition of its formula so that the public may know what they are taking. This complete formula is now to be found in newspapers throughout the country. It is composed principally of organic iron in the form of iron peptonate of a special specific standard and glycerophosphates which is one of the most easily tonic ingredients known. To the credit of the manufacturers it may be said that they use the most expensive form of iron peptonate, whereas by employing other makes they could have put the same quantity of actual iron in the tablets at less than one-fourth the cost and by using metallic iron they could have reduced the cost to less than one-twelfth, but by thus cheapening the product they would undoubtedly have impaired its therapeutic efficacy. In my opinion a careful examination of this formula by any physician or pharmacist should convince him that Nuxated Iron is to be placed among the very highest class and most strictly ethical preparations known to medical science. It excels anything I have ever used for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles thereby enriching and fortifying the blood against the ravages of disease."

SHRINE OPENS BIG MEET IN THE WEST

MORE THAN 100,000 NOBLES GATHER AS GUESTS OF PORTLAND

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., June 23.—The forty-sixth session of the Imperial Council of the Order of the Mystic Shrine opened in this city this morning, labelling itself "the largest convention ever held by any organization in the United States."

More than 100,000 strangers are this morning the guests of the City of Portland, and will be for three days. With the termination of the Democratic Convention in San Francisco, the "Rose City" expects to be host to an additional thousand of distinguished gentlemen.

The many thousands of Shriners gathered here from every point of the compass will open their national convention this morning with a full-dress parade. The procession will leave the Multnomah Hotel headquarters and march to the Civic Auditorium, where the Imperial Council will convene for the first time in the three days of their stay here.

Portland has donned its ultra-gala dress. For six months she has been preparing herself for the greatest convention in her history. Apropos of the day, Portland's annual Rose Festival has similarly opened today. The city is a veritable bouquet of roses, harmonizing with the brilliant hues of the Shriners' uniforms.

Tonight the City of Portland will conduct its electric parade in honor of its guests. Float after float laden with the flora of the Columbia River gorge and the Willamette Valley, will be operated in the nocturnal parade, strung together by a myriad of electric lights. The floats will tell a story, a moving picture, so to speak, of an Oriental legend, it being left to be spectators to fathom the message of the tale.

Tomorrow night the Shriners will respond with its own parade. Another parade will feature the third day, when the Rose Festival proper opens. Both the Shriners and the City of Portland will participate in this parade.

The work of the Imperial Council has not been announced. The sessions will not be open to the public.

Ole Hanson's Early Ambitions.

In the World's Work Ole Hanson thus relates the unique circumstances of his first night at Seattle: "When I came to Seattle in 1902, I pitched my tent on Beacon hill, a close-in, nonsettled part of the city. The first night I arrived I stood on the hill and saw the child-city spread out before me. Below me to the west were the tide lands covered with bulrushes, with an occasional street on stilts rising over them; to the north was the city ablaze with light with small buildings, narrow streets, a station house for a depot and hills and hills, covered with forests. "Around the fire that night I told the curious who had gathered to watch the strangers that we had come to Seattle to make it our home, to be a part of its growth, and that some day I would be its mayor. Of course, they laughed at the idea of the red-headed stranger with his team and covered wagon becoming the mayor of their city of 100,000 people."

Czechs Superb Artists.

As artists, the Czechs have power, imagination and superb technique. Their sketches show the pride and manhood of the Czech soldier, who has gone through all the demoralizing experiences that have ruined the Russians, but has come through clean and sound.

The Czechs are musical. To hear the marching songs of the Russian soldiers in Petrograd was inspiring. But the Czechs have more than music in their singing—they have a challenge and a promise. The Czechs sing as though they were creating a "Marsellaise" and not simply repeating it.

Czech music, whether it be the marching song among the box cars, or the violin solo in the Red Cross car among the wounded, is like that.

English Customs in Egypt.

Egypt, notes a correspondent, is enthusiastic for English customs. In the case of visiting cards they are leaving us far behind.

I have one before me with the name in the center written in Latin and Arabic characters, and the address below.

In the right hand corner in gilt letters is the Spanish greeting "Felicidades," and in the opposite corner a gilt anchor and chain wreathed with pale blue forget-me-nots. The whole card is bordered with lotuses.

Another Egyptian uses quite an English card, with the letters "P. T. O." neatly printed in the lower right hand corner. On turning the card over one is advised to "Keep smiling."—London Chronicle.

United States Goods in Belgium.

Belgium, with a population of 7,658,000, ranks fifth among the nations of the world as a market for United States exports, being surpassed only by the United Kingdom, France, Canada and Italy in the value of products purchased from this country during the first nine months of 1919.

Hotly Contested Game Won by Locals

fielder's choice, Williams continuing to No. 3. Green hit for one sack and the bassocks were discharged of their burden, Williams and Link hitting the rubber. The onslaught started again when Link smashed one to right. Werdt went safe with a fielder's choice and Green came through. Griffin singled, scoring Fink. Crutchfield hit into a double death, W. Thompson to McGarr.

Every thing settled until the end of the eighth when the local people populated the sacks with stick work. With Johnston down, Neville walked. T. Thompson whooped 'em up with slashing blow to left for one base, Neville going to second. W. Thompson walked, advancing both runners, Halbrooks caught one and sent it thru short and Neville was closely followed by T. Thompson homeward bound. W. Thompson scored a moment later on a wild throw to halt him at third, knotting the count. Watkins hit for a double death, Fink to Werdt.

Albany-Decatur finished the bout in the last of the tenth. Johnston singled. Neville took three waves. T. Thompson fouled to Williams. W. Thompson stopped the game with a slashing double to the right dump, putting Johnston over the pan for the 5-4 count.

The fielding of Nichols in right for the locals was exceptionally good. The local boy had four putouts for the afternoon and two were very difficult catches behind first.

How to Treat A Torpid Liver

The liver is the largest and most important organ in the body, and when the liver refuses to act, it causes constipation, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, gas, sour stomach, bad breath, dysentery, diarrhoea, pains in back and under shoulder blades and under ribs on right side. These symptoms lead to colds, influenza or other serious troubles unless corrected immediately.

An inactive liver places an extra burden on the kidneys, which overtaxes them and causes the blood to absorb and carry into the system the impurities that the liver and kidneys have failed to eliminate.

When you treat the liver alone, you treat only a third of your trouble, and that is why you have to take purgatives every few nights; Calomel or other ordinary laxatives do not go far enough. If you would treat your kidneys and blood while treating the liver you would put your entire system in order and frequent purgatives would then be unnecessary.

Dr. W. L. Hitchcock many years ago recognized these important facts, and after much study and research, compounded what is now known as Dr. Hitchcock's Liver, Kidney and Blood Purifiers, three medicines combined in one. This was the Doctor's favorite prescription for many years, being used by his patients with marked success. It is a harmless vegetable remedy, that will not make you sick, and you may eat anything you like while taking it.

Get a large tin box from your druggist or dealer for 25c under his personal guarantee that it will give relief, tone up the liver, stimulate the kidneys to healthy action and thereby purify the blood. If your dealer will not supply you, it will be mailed direct by Hitchcock Medicine Co., Atlanta, Ga., upon receipt of price—Advertisement.

Cake Broken Over Bride.

It is an old belief that a marriage should take place when the moon is waxing and not waning. If it is to be a lucky match, and in many north country districts a strict inquiry is made as to the state of the moon before the wedding day is fixed. In the north, too, no wise bride will ask an odd number of guests to her wedding feast, for an old superstition has it that if this is done one of the guests will die before the year is out. In the Highlands it is taken as a terribly unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bridal pair on their wedding day; while in Derbyshire prospective brides still tell the bees of their wedding, and decorate the hives for the occasion. In parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which reason is hard to find, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride, and the guests scramble for pieces.—London Answers.

Bugs That Birds Eat.

According to a paper on behalf of bird protection published by the State Horticultural society of Kansas the bird population of that state is 250,000,000, which every year eat enough insects to fill 480 trains of 50 box cars each—24,000 cars of a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds to the car. These insect trains would be long enough to reach from Oklahoma to Nebraska. Reduced to pounds, Blair figures that the birds of Kansas every year eat 576,000,000 pounds of insects. It is hard to conceive the dollars and cents value of the insect-eating birds to the Kansas farmer.

Things We Forget.

Folks here seem to have developed an awkward habit of leaving their legs behind in street cars. According to the last annual report of lost property, the general manager of the street railways says three artificial limbs found their way into the list, which also includes six gas masks, sixty Bibles and prayer books and cash to the value of $11,465.—Liverpool (Eng.) TAUGHT HIM MUCH

Homely Philosophy of Great Benefit to Worried Man.

"Wrestle With Your Troubles as They Come Along, and Don't Worry," Is About as Good Advice as Can Be Given.

"We all have our troubles," said Mr. Gosington. "A very capable young friend of mine who has a somewhat responsible position was bothered by the ways and actions of his subordinates and co-workers and superiors. So he went to a friend of his, an older and higher-up man, for advice and comfort."

"The older man smiled over this request. The younger man had always imagined that the older man in his higher-up place was free from all worries; that he could do as he liked and boss things to suit himself, but now he heard the older man saying, smilingly:

"Good gracious! You think you are the only man that has troubles. You think I have no trouble to bother me. Why, if you should take your troubles and multiply them by about ten you would begin to understand about where I stand in the trouble way. We all have our troubles."

"Which was of course the simple truth. The man doesn't live who is absolutely his own boss. Low or high, there is somebody above him or below him or around him to whom he must defer. My young friend had an idea that when he got higher up he would be free, unhampered; that he could do as he liked. But the minute he came to talk with that older friend he realized, and never after forgot, that no man in the world is free to do as he likes. This older and higher-up friend had superiors still over him and men of the same rank and subordinates to wrestle with; he had, as the saying is, troubles of his own."

"But his talk with the older man was a great relief and comfort to my young friend just the same. In fact, it seemed somehow to broaden him right away. He smiled as he thought to himself now that he was not the only man in the world with troubles; there were others. And his own burdens seemed lighter as he thought of the loads that other people were carrying. And it helped him a whole lot to realize, as he now did, how his older friend carried his troubles. He put up a good front always. If he was worried or distressed he never showed it. He kept his nerve, he was never upset; in fact, he never let his troubles really worry him, as far as you could see, and he was always considerate of other people and their feelings and ready and able to look at things from other people's point of view as well as from his own."

"As he dwelt upon these things my young friend was helped enormously, and he realized now, of course, that it was these qualities and characteristics that had always attracted him to the older man, and he firmly resolved as far as he could to pattern after him, which he has ever since done."

"My young friend is now older by a few years than when he had this enlightening experience and he has also advanced considerably since then and he still is coming along strong. I 'Ever have any troubles come your way nowadays? I said to him the other day."

"Why, yes," he said, right smilingly, "we do have our little troubles now and then and we do our level best with them as they come along, but we positively refuse to worry over 'em."

"And really I think my young friend is coming as near to that as anybody possibly can."

Addition to Brazil's Wealth.

The commercial life of Para, Brazil, depends so essentially on the marketing of forest products that every effort is being made to advertise the value of a common native plant called "an-hinga." In the soft beds of mud that line so many of the state's sluggish rivers, the plant grows so profusely that an estimated total of 100,000 tons could be exported annually. The an-hinga is now known as the raw material from which cellulose is obtained for the manufacture of linen paper; but recent experiments show that the fibers may be transformed chemically into an artificial cotton fiber, of structure even superior to that of the genuine article. One mill is now busy with this new work, while efforts are being made to adapt abandoned sugar mills to the process.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

J. E. Blair Gives Impressions of Labor Leaders of the use of FORCE.

"Seattle" Duncan, who is thus distinguished, as he hails from Seattle, Washington, and also to distinguish him from James Duncan, first vice president of the A. F. of L., was an other so-called "progressive," who "close up," seemed really a winning personality. He seems appreciative of anybody's ideas, and is approachable and friendly.

He claims to be a busy fighter of the I. W. W. and for constructive trade unionism. His union in Seattle has set up a National Bank in that city. Mr. Duncan expressed much satisfaction over the passage of the resolution favoring government ownership.

Glenn E. Plumb said he was a "Presbyterian elder" and, of course, that suited me. By my agreeing not to quote him, Mr. Plumb gave me the benefit of what he thought on several "mooted questions."

All I had to do was to just ask any one of the big men what they thought, and they would right out with their ideas—such a contrast to the man, little men I have met in life whose mouths are as close as the bark of a tree. While, of course, they told me no secrets, still it was with the understanding that they, not me, were to make their views public. Such a precaution is a wise one, as it is, practically impossible for one's mind to be spoken by another other than one's self. It is on this ground that the inside "tips" I got must be kept to myself.

Mr. Plumb said several things that are all right to print, one of them was to the effect that if the Church of Christ did not get busy in the world's work, as regards industrial justice and the right use of property, other agencies would and the church finally lose its hold on humanity.

Delegate Ogden, a near member of the English Parliament, the British fraternal delegate from the Labor party of Great Britain, proved to be "as easy as an old shoe." Mr. Ogden said in his formal speech, that "a Christian life" could not be lived under bad conditions; if I run up with him before the convention is over, I am going to deny his statement, or the ground of my own experience and on the word of St. Paul. Mr. Ogden had two boys in the war, and a brother also. He was formerly a weaver, and said that he had always been busy in church work and says he believes in the church's principles. He asked me to show him around where he could get a drink—a drink of lemonade. He drank two glasses. There is plenty of whiskey here, they say. And when I have gotten after delegates to take the convention to Birmingham some have objected "You have not got anything to drink down there." My reply was, "you ain't going to get any anywhere, soon."

Canadian labor leaders, especially the radical type, are out and out for prohibition. John McClelland, fraternal delegate from the Canadian Labor council, is authority for this statement.

The most warm-blooded man I have met, is Frank P. Walsh. He set up a great argument for Irish home rule in a great speech at Windsor Hotel auditorium. Because I am apt to be very appreciative of a truly big man, as on the other hand I am just the opposite of self-made little fellows when I, with others, "grasped the laborer's hand," my admiration must have shone in my eyes, for Mr. Walsh held my right wrist with his left hand and my right hand with his right hand, and said: "This is the real bunch." Whereas, really I am for Dominion Irish rule, though there was no use to oppose the strong resolution for Absolute Irish independence, as later passed by the big convention. When the Irish resolution, similar to the others that pass the Federation every year, passed, many got up to go, when President Gompers shouted after them, "Oh, you do not need to 'celebrate' yet."

There are lots of other big men I can tell you about, if you will ask me to, but this is enough for awhile.

KHIVA BECOMES A REPUBLIC

Famous Khanate of Central Asia Has Definitely Rejected the Chains of Despotism.

So Khiva, the khanate in Central Asia through which Col. Fred Burnaby once rode on horseback to the capital, has declared itself an independent republic! That prodigious English soldier and traveler who won military glory fighting outside the endangered square at Abu Klea, in the Sudan, would smile hugely, no doubt, were he able to read the news. For the semi-barbaric city of Khiva as he found it on that famous ride in the seventies, or rather as the Russians found it just two, or three years before, to be exact, was filled with slaves captured from the Persians by Turkoman raiders. Its whitewashed houses, scattered amid the elms and poplars, produced a welcome effect, however, after the countless miles of arid steppes which had to be negotiated before it could be reached. Its citizens were those weirdly named "cousins" of the Turks, the Uzbeks, Kirghiz, Sarts, Tajaks and the Kara-Kalpaks, or Black Bonnets of the Turki tribe whom the caliph would fain gather into the family fold. The khanate is but the relic of the once great kingdom of Chorasmin, over which King Darius ruled by means of his satraps.—Christian Science Monitor.

PLAN SCHOOL ON SHIPBOARD

Socialistic Council of Bradford, England, Is Considering the Adoption of Remarkable Scheme.

When it became necessary to erect a new secondary school in Bradford, the rich wool textile center of England, the usual estimates were asked for, and reported, in the total sum of $500,000.

Socialists, who have a considerable majority on the Bradford education committee, at once decided to break free from tradition, and adopted the idea of buying a suitable seagoing ship for that amount, one big enough for a couple of hundred children. These children will be sent to sea for a six-months or 12-months period, if a subsequent suggestion is adopted.

It is still to be settled whether the ship schoolhouse will remain moored in Bradford canal docks, only going to sea as a freighter during vacation periods, or whether it would not be in the interests of a general education to let the scholars see glimpses of foreign ports, learning their languages among natives, the ship at the same time being loaded with cargoes that would pay full maintenance expenses, probably even of the boarding of the children.

Auto Worked Change.

He used to be a pretty easy-going fellow before he bought his machine. Some days his name would decorate the spare board at the car barn and some days it wouldn't, for he and work were not firm friends.

But now how different. He contracted the automobile fever. The machine was the result. Now, buying an auto is easy. But keeping it running and taking your girl out is another thing. That requires coin of the realm.

He has developed into a terrible shark. His face is now a familiar figure on the North Easton line and if there are any spare trips laying around loose he is right up to the window leaning on both elbows.

We should have made an exception as to Sunday. Ah, that is the day he shines. The little machine rolls merrily along.

"It's worth it at that, to be a millionaire one day a week," he remarked as he unlimbered his portly form after 11 hours' labor the other night on a North Easton hack.—Brockton Enterprise.

Nut Butter Is Wholesome.

Cocoa butter, as nut butter is called in England, was not accepted with enthusiasm by the British public when natural butter became scarce during the war, so the food committee of the Royal society made some elaborate tests of its effects on human beings. The New York Medical Journal summarizes the results, which show that slightly less of the fat of cocoa butter than of that of real butter is utilized by the body; it causes no digestive troubles; when consumed in large quantities it has a slightly laxative effect, and in general it is a safe and wholesome food.

WELTER TITLE BOUT IS TALK OF FANS

BRITTON-LEWIS SCRAP TO DECISION CAUSE FOR SPECULATION

(By Jack Veiock, International News Sporting Editor)

NEW YORK, June 23.—One of the first important fifteen-round bouts to a decision that New Yorkers are looking forward to when the new boxing law becomes operative is a world's championship battle between Jack Britton and his tow-headed rival, Ted Kid Lewis, newly crowned welter-weight champion of England.

The "old man of the welters," Britton, is thirty-six, you know, has been in undisputed possession of the championship for something over a year. He won the crown at Canton, Ohio, on March 17, 1919, by flattering Lewis for the count in the ninth round of a scheduled twelve-round bout.

The Canton bout marked the eighteenth meeting between Lewis and Britton, who have been the world's leading welterweights for several years. Then, on July 27 of last year Lewis got a chance to regain the title in an eight-round bout at Jersey City and failed, for the champion was all too clever for his British opponent, and after it was over consensus of opinion at the ringside gave Britton the popular decision.

In addition to Lewis, who won the English welterweight title a short time ago when he scored a technical knockout over Johnny Bashman, there are at least two welterweights who rank as near topnotchers, but both of these boys have failed to shake the throne on which Britton sits so easily. One of these lads is Johnny Griffiths, who returned from a successful tour abroad only to lose a decision to the "aged" but agile champion in a fifteen-round bout at Akron last Decoration Day. Griffiths, ten years Britton's junior, was expected to lift the crown from Jack's curly dome, but failed absolutely. Jack Perry, the Pittsburgh welter, is another lad who has been knocking at Britton's front door persistently for some time and in several meetings with the champion he has failed to even tilt the crown.

Britton is the most marvelous boxer of the age. When his age is considered he takes rank as a pugilist who represents a district class, for at thirty-six he appears to be just as active and prolific with his mittens as he was at thirty, and in his recent bout with Griffiths he demonstrated that he can go the championship distance and finish strong.

With Lewis wearing the English title athwart his taffy-colored thatch and clamoring loudly for another chance to regain the world's title lost at Canton more than a year ago, the twentieth meeting between the two is only a little way off, for with fifteen rounds to a decision permitted here New Yorkers are already asking for the match.

That Lewis stands a good chance of regaining the title some day is admitted, for great though he is, Britton cannot go on forever, and the Ted Kid is thirteen years younger than the champion. Both men celebrated birthdays last October. Britton entering on his thirty-sixth year and Lewis his twenty-third.
